JAP FIGHTING SPIRIT BEGINS TO WILT

Meandering Along the Main Stem By WASH FAYETTE

One of my good friends residing in the southern part of the county, who was a little bit backward about giving his name, has written to me about an unusual incident that occurred on the farm, that I believe is worthy of mentioning here.

Suppose I give you the yarn in the words of the subscriber who sent it to me. He says:

"We noticed the cows following something up through the pasture so we went to investigate, expecting to find one of those funny smelling cats with a stripe down its back. (I'll bet he means a skunk). But what did we find but a ground hog with a long sardine can over its head. He was very thin and hardly able to move. We removed the can, and let him move along his way. This happened on a farm about four miles from Leesburg. In all probability he had been traveling a long time."

That reminds me of cats that get their head fast in salmon cans, and proceed to cut capers until they are extricated from their embarrassing trap.

Come to think of it, this is just about the first ground hog yarn I've stumbled upon since the groundhog saw his shadow last February and retired for six weeks more winter weather that lengthened into June!

One family in Washington C. H. with two of its boys overseas has reported to me a few things these boys are said to be longing for, as gleaned from their letters to their home folks.

Gathered from some of these letters and from those of other service men, as being among the typically American things many of the overseas lads are homesick for, were the following:

The drugstore where sometimes "the gang" gathered near the soda fountain and smoked and "kidded."

Magazine and newspaper advertisements that can be read at a glance instead of having to be laboriously translated.

A nice thick steak, smothered in onions.

Breakfasts of bacon and FRESH eggs.

Thick Americans newspapers. Real ice-cream sodas.

Nice hot water tub baths with more than one towel to use.

Why disillusion him by writing that a lot of those good old American institutions aren't what they used to be? That the drugstore is now just a place where you can't buy cigarettes.

That the magazine advertisements still look good but the fine print usually says something like: "You'll have to wait until after the war to buy our product." Or, "Don't become discouraged if you can't always find so-and-so on your dealer's shelves."

As for a nice, thick steak. Well, that is just a pleasant dream of the past—even in this country.

Hens are still laying eggs—but try to get the bacon to go with them.

But we still have American newspapers, of pre-war standard, unrationed, not hidden for favorite customers, even delivered, and with the comic strip characters getting in and out of as many jams as ever.

That's one "American institution" on his list that the homesick serviceman wouldn't find disappointing.

POINT VALUES RISE FOR SHORTENINGS

WASHINGTON, June 18.—(P)—OPA upset housewives' red point budgets today by posting another two-point ration hike for lard, shortening and salad and cooking oils.

The boost places a 12-point-a-pound value on those products. The agency said its action was necessary because of reduced supplies and uneven distribution.

Smaller third-quarter allotments of fats and oils to all commercial users except pharmaceutical manufacturers also were announced.

STRIKE BREWS IN BELGIUM

BRUSSELS, June 18.—(P)—The threat of a general strike hung over Belgium today as the country uneasily awaited the return of King Leopold amid new demands that he abdicate.

JAPS ON GUAM ADMIT DEFEAT AND SURRENDER

Hold-out Force Makes Big Show of Quitting - - But Evidences Broken Spirit

By RICHARD O'MALLEY
GUAM, June 18.—(P)—A Japanese field officer who held remnants of his command together for 10 months until he had become a symbol of resistance to them has surrendered with 33 of his men.

The officer made a formal surrender here as elements of a Marine battalion watched, slack-jawed.

Parleys between the officer and Marine Col. Howard N. Stent, Warner Springs, Calif., preceded the surrender, which was reported today as a fine example of American psychological warfare.

(Date of the surrender was presumably some time this month. Guam was "secured" Aug. 9, 1944.)

The Japanese officer attended the parleys in an open area surrounded by a Marine guard but he brought down his own well-fed appearing troops with him. As he talked, a subaltern wiped perspiration from his face and another fanned off flies.

The Japanese said they had plenty of food and water.

The first concern of the surrendering officer was his query: "What is the future of Japan after victory?"

"That will depend a whole lot on the type of leadership men of your intelligence give it," replied Stent.

Clad in American service uniforms, including dungarees and jackets on which were stenciled the names of Marines from whom they had been stolen, the surrendering troops counted off briskly. Then their commander, described by American officers as alert and intelligent said:

"I am turning you over to Col. Stent. You will be treated well. You are now prisoners of war. It is not a disgraceful state and you are not to regard it as such."

Stent rigged up a sound truck in the area. Just as the Japanese were believed about to give up, a

SOVIET COMMANDER IN BERLIN KILLED

LONDON, June 18.—(P)—The Soviet-controlled Berlin radio announced today that Col. Gen. Bezarin, Russian commander in the German capital, had been killed in an accident. The broadcast, recorded by BBC, did not give any details.

It was Bezarin who conducted foreign correspondents through the German capital on an inspection tour a little more than a week ago.

HAWAII-WASHINGTON RECORD SET BY B-29

WASHINGTON, June 18.—(P)—A non-stop flight record of 20 hours, 15 minutes for 4,640 miles from Hawaii to Washington in a Superfortress has been set by Major Gen. Curtis M. Le May.

Le May, chief of the B-29 fleet pounding Japan, flew the giant plane most of the way, the War Department said yesterday in disclosing that he and 15 officers and enlisted men landed here at 10:43 P. M. (EWT) Saturday.

Le May came to the capital for conferences at army air force headquarters. He leads the 21st Bomber Command of the 20th Air Force.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Goodyear Tire Co. Closed By Strike

With 20,000 Already Idle in One Akron Factory, 15,000 in Firestone Plant Prepare To Vote on Walkout

AKRON, June 18.—(P)—While pickets patrolled the three strike-bound plants of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co., employees of another major Akron rubber producer prepared today to vote on whether they too should walk out.

The National Labor Board was to conduct a strike vote among the 15,000-odd employees of the Firestone Tire and Rubber Co. just 21 days after the striking Goodyear workers voted yes by a three to one margin in a similar ballot.

The Goodyear strike, authorized by the CIO-United Rubber Workers, followed two weeks of company-union negotiations on 32 disputed issues climaxed Saturday when the URW executive committee recommended "nonrecurrence" in the latest company proposals.

More than 20,000 employees are idle because of the strike. C. V. Wheeler, president of the URW's Goodyear local, estimated some 16,700 production workers were involved and company officials instructed the 4,000 office employees not to report to work today.

Wheeler said the strike began the in the rim plant, where workers walked out Saturday night after demanding an additional man in each rim crew. It spread to the mill and calender rooms of plant No. 2 and then to the mixers in plant No. 1.

The URW local then took up the action as official, setting a 4:30 A. M. deadline, and union committee members circulated through the factory telling workers "this is an authorized strike."

The Goodyear Aircraft Corp. plant, situated in the area of the strike-bound plant No. 3, was affected for a time yesterday but Wheeler said the employees there, members of the CIO-United Automobile workers, would be allowed to go to their jobs as usual.

An estimated 1,000 are employed in the plant, now producing Corsair fighter planes.

The huge Goodyear plants were engaged almost 100 per cent in war production and company officials listed tires, tubes, half tracts, tank bogey rollers and rubber rafts among its important military items.

Their estimated production of 16,600 tires and tubes would be lost each 24 hours of the strike. A prolonged shutdown, the spokesmen added, would affect other plants outside Akron because some goods are only partially processed here.

Goodyear officials last night sent identical telegrams to Rubber Director John L. Collier, War Production Board Chairman J. A. Krug and Gen. Brehon Somervell, commanding the Army service forces which reported the strike and said in part:

"Not only are our manufacturing operations of war products halted, but all access to the offices (Please Turn to Page Six)

Commander of Allied Forces That Crushed Germany Is Given Tumultuous Welcome in Washington as He Rides Through Cheering Thongs That Line Streets To Capitol Where Joint Session of Congress Addressed

WASHINGTON, June 18.—(P)—General Dwight D. Eisenhower, returning triumphantly to his homeland from victory in Europe, declared today his soldiers "passionately" believe "the problems of peace can and must be met."

Climaxing a spectacular homecoming that saw him ride over the capital's historic triumphal parade route—Pennsylvania Avenue—past wildly cheering men and women, General Eisenhower told a joint session of Congress and the Supreme Court:

"The genius and power of America have, with her Allies, eliminated one menace to our country's freedom—even her very existence."

Referring to the Pacific war, General Eisenhower said:

"Speaking for the American men and women I have been so honored to command . . . in our minds and hearts there is no slightest doubt that our people's spirit of determination, which has buoyed us up and driven us forward in Europe, will continue to fire this nation through the ordeals of battle yet to come. Though we dream of return of our loved ones, we are ready, as we have always been, to do our duty to our country, no matter what it may be."

General Eisenhower made these other points:

The late President and Prime Minister Churchill were "two God-given men" to whom the world owes lasting obligation. In Churchill, Roosevelt "had a worthy partner, who had led his country through its blackest hour in 1940."

British and Americans forgot differences in customs and methods—even national prejudice—in their devotion to a common cause."

The campaigns of the Red army, crushing all resistance in the East, played a decisive part in the defeat of Germany.

The banners of victory cannot hide from sight these sacrifices in which victory has been bought.

"The hard task of a commander is to send men into battle knowing some of them—often many—must be killed or wounded in order that necessary missions may be achieved. It is a soul killing!"

"My sorrow is not only for the fine young lives lost or broken, but it is equally for the parents, the wives and the friends who have been bereaved. The price they pay is possibly the greatest for the victory won. The blackest of their grief can be relieved only by the faith that all this shall not happen again!"

OHIO VETERANS ARRIVE IN U.S.

Black Hawk Division En Route To Jap War

By EARL BERKLEY
CAMP KILMER, N. J., June 18.

(P)—The Black Hawks from Ohio reached the last lap of the trip back home today.

One hundred strong they headed for Fort Dix, N. J., with buddies of the war-toughened 86th (Black Hawk) Infantry Division which arrived yesterday from Europe.

At the New Jersey camp they'll get 30-day furloughs preliminary to being retrained for service in the Pacific. They're supremely confident the Japanese will be knocked out as completely and quickly as were Germans.

Four big troop ships brought the division to New York.

Fast troop trains carried soldiers and news men to Camp Kilmer where the warriors got summer uniforms, steak dinners and entertainment.

The Ohioans did their share of phoning kinfolks and sweethearts, despite expectation of leaving for home today. The Army said furloughs would begin in 24 to 36 hours after the boats docked.

The Buckeye Blackhaws are part of the first complete combat division to be returned to America for redeployment against Japan.

They were gay and happy, looked fresh and well taken care of. War had not hardened them nor made them cynical.

Up to 90 days will elapse before any of the group leaves home. They must be given "refresher" training.

"Of course, we're glad to be home," said Johnny Bidwell, 27, of Lima, reflecting his buddies' sentiments.

Johnny is hurrying to Lima to see his wife and their little girl. But he'll miss a familiar face; his mother died while he was at war.

MILITARY TRAINING FACES HOUSE FIGHT

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
WASHINGTON, June 18.—(P)

—Unless it changes its mind, the Woodrum committee will recommend soon that the United States adopt universal training as a part of its permanent postwar military policy. Enactment of the necessary legislation, however, is in doubt.

The special house group created to study postwar military policy will hear congressional testimony tomorrow before closing its public consideration of peacetime draft proposals. It has listened to more than 100 witnesses.

An informal poll of the 23-man committee showed today that a top-heavy majority favors the principle of compulsory peacetime training. Indications are that fewer than five members will dissent.

But the committee's recommendation will be only the start of a long and bitter battle, particularly in the House.

Poles Go On Trial In Russia Accused Of Serious Plots

Court Told Leaders of Group Had Confessed Killing 594 Russian Officers, Anti-Soviet Espionage and Conferring With Germans and Charged With Possessing Document Linking England With European Bloc To Combat Russia

By EDDY GILMORE
MOSCOW, June 18.—(P)—The Secretary of the Military Collegium of the Supreme Court told the judges today that Maj. Gen. Bronislaw Okulicki and 16 other Polish leaders had confessed to a long list of charges including killing 594 Russian officers, anti-Soviet espionage, and conferring with the Germans.

(London Poles said their information was that 15 had confessed to charges.)

The graying Okulicki, who headed the Polish Home Army of the London Polish government after the surrender of Gen. Tadeusz (Bor) Komorowski, and his fellow defendants heard the charges without emotion.

The trials were held in the same hall where the Trotskyist purge trials were held in 1937. The same Judge Vasily V. Ulrich, presided.

Okulicki was assured of possessing at the time of his arrest by the Red Army a document in which he declared in the event of a Soviet victory over Germany, England would have to form a western European bloc to combat the Russians. The document was said to assert Germany and Poland should be in the bloc.

Indications were that the Red Army prosecutor would ask the death penalty at least in some cases.

The secretary of the court said Okulicki had confessed to sending the message about the European bloc over one of the many radio stations the Red Army took from the 16 Poles on trial. He quoted the message as saying:

"In the case of victory of the USSR over Germany, not only England's interests but all of Europe's will be threatened."

The lengthy reading of the charges included allegations of conspiracies engaged in by the general staff of the Polish London government against the Russian Army.

Okulicki, principal defendant, announced he would defend himself.

The charges alleged that President Sosnokowski of Poland's London regime and Okulicki agreed that weapons, print shops, radio stations and ammunition should be preserved for resisting

FARM RESALE TAX PROPOSED BY FCA

ATLANTA, June 18.—(P)—A heavy tax on capital gains made through the resale of farms was proposed today by I. W. Duggan, governor of the Farm Credit Administration, as a check against a "threat of advancing land prices."

SUICIDE FORCES STILL FIGHT AS OTHERS GIVE UP

Four More Industrial Cities Of Japan Set Afire by Pre-dawn B-29 Attacks

By LEONARD MILLIMAN
(By the Associated Press)

The surrender of amazingly large numbers of Japanese fighting men on Okinawa Island and in the northeast Philippines highlighted developments in western Pacific battle areas today.

But while hundreds of Nipponese lost the will to fight and quit cold, some 10,000 others were fighting to the death in a hopeless trap on southern Okinawa.

The surrenders in the Cagayan Valley of the Philippines were termed by one American commander "the greatest haul" taken in the entire southwest Pacific.

The prisoners there included many Formosan soldiers, impressed by the Japanese early in the war.

On the Japanese home front four of Nippon's secondary industrial cities smoldered under the impact of an estimated 3,000 tons of fire bombs spilled by about 450 nightly flying Superfortresses. One B-29 was lost in the four-way blow against vital war industries.

The Japanese on Okinawa and the Philippines began to quit in droves as the total of Nippon dead in the two sectors mounted to close to 3,000 a day. On southern Okinawa, where doughboys and Marines have split Japanese remnants into two segments with their backs to the sea, the Nipponese have been dying at a rate of 1,600 daily.

Allied commands ignored Japanese reports of a pre-invasion naval bombardment of the Balikpapan oil refinery area of Borneo.

Substantial gains were reported on northwest Borneo and southeast China, paralleling a rapid advance of U. S. 37th Division infantrymen on the Cagayan valley plains of the northern Philippines.

Small but significant gains were scored by four U. S. divisions on Okinawa through concentrated Japanese fire as Yanks cut off one segment of the Nipponese suicide force and established firm control over four heights dominating Hara Kiri plateau.

Both Allied and Japanese spokesmen predicted the war would be speeded up. Tokyo forecast an imminent assault on Japan or the China coast.

Wherever or whenever it comes it will be backed by firepower "such as the world never before has known," said Rear Adm. George F. Hussey, Jr., U. S. Navy spokesman. It involves $240,000,000 monthly production of explosives, about a third of it going for rockets.

Acting Prime Minister J. B. Chifley of Australia said action was moving so rapidly the war might be over in less than a year and a half, but Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell cautioned the Japanese would fight fiercely for what remains of their empire.

Gen. H. H. Arnold, head of the U. S. Army Air Forces, said today "by the end of 1946, we figure, there will be nothing left of Japan to bomb."

Arnold, conferring with Gen. George C. Kenney, chief of the Far East Air Forces at the latter's Philippines headquarters, expressed his views at a press conference.

Amplifying his program to drop three times as many bombs on Japan in the next 18 months as were dropped on Germany, Arnold asserted that by this fall there would be twice as many B-29s in operation against Japan as were used in May, when the heavy fire raids on Japanese cities were started by fleets of 400 and 500 of the big bombers.

Twelve thousand pound factory buster bombs, now in production, will be used.

Arnold remarked that the distance involved in bombing Manchuria, where many Japanese war plants are located, "doesn't worry us—from Okinawa we can cover half of China and all of Manchuria."

Approximately 450 Superfortresses burned substantial holes in four small parts of that empire when they hit this morning at chemical, aircraft, railway, steel and oil refinery plants in Kagoshima and Omuta on Kyushu Island

TO PLACE JAP BEETLE TRAPS IN THIS CITY

Efforts Being Made To Find Extent of Spread of Dangerous Pests

Once more the Japanese beetle traps are to be placed in Washington C. H. in an effort to ascertain if the Japanese beetles have spread further in this locality.

John W. Baringer, assistant chief of the division of Plant Industry, said Monday that the Ohio Department of Agriculture, co-operating with the local officials and the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine, will place a number of metal insect traps in Washington C. H. during the next few days, to obtain information on the occurrence and status of the Japanese beetle to aid in determining what control measures may be advisable.

So far as known only a few of the Japanese beetles have been trapped here over a period of years.

Most of the traps will be placed in residential sections and Baringer asks residents to cooperate by allowing the traps to be placed on their properties for a period of five weeks. Traps function best when placed in sunny locations at least 15 ft. away from host plants and residents are asked not to move the traps without first consulting the inspector.

The inspectors carry credentials which will be produced on request. Local police have been notified about the work.

The Japanese beetle is an introduced plant pest. In the vicinity of New Jersey it appears as an adult beetle about the middle of June and is most abundant and active during July and August. Farther south it may appear earlier. The adult beetle is about 1 1/4" long, colored green and brown with rows of white spots down each side of the body. It is a voracious feeder, causing great damage to blossoms, fruit and foliage of many plants, including apple, peach, cherry, grape, corn soy beans, elm, linden, rose and hollyhock. Soon after emergence female beetles begin depositing eggs in the soil. After the eggs hatch, the grubs feed on roots of grasses and other vegetation, causing considerable damage to turf in lawns and golf greens. The beetles overwinter as grubs in the ground.

Trap inspectors do not have information about other plant pests. Please address requests for such information to John W. Baringer, Assistant Chief, Division of Plant Industry, Ohio Department of Agriculture, Columbus, Ohio.

young man came from the jungle. The Japanese admitted his country would not win the war and said he wanted "to sit out the war" in the Guam jungle. He was told that was impossible.

He left for further deliberation, agreeing to return a week later.

He arrived with a retinue of holdout troops who were taken to the command prison stockade. The first request of the Japanese field officer was that they be taught English.

Surrender of these 34 Japanese on the first populated territory retaken from the enemy in this war was interpreted as the end of all enemy activity on Guam.

SHOE REPAIRING BUSINESS HERE IS ON UPSWING

50 Per Cent More Fixing Is Needed To Keep Shoes In Condition

If you want to make your shoes last for the duration, look to their heels and soles and keep them in good repair.

That was the advice of shoe repairmen here—men who repair anywhere from 200 to 600 pairs of shoes each week. They see all kinds and can say from their experience it is the shoe with the most frequent repairs which last longer in these days of rationing.

Women are the worst offenders it seems. They wear out their shoes more thoroughly and are more lax in taking them to the shoe shops to have new heels and soles put on. If a heel is worn down too far, it eats into the leather on the heel. To repair it, the heel must be ground down until the broken place is off and that throws the shoe out of line, the shoe repairman said.

As a whole, shoes brought in for repairs now are not ordinarily worn any more than footwear in the repair shops before the war. But there are so many more of them—50 percent more is a conservative estimate.

Non-rationed shoes admittedly are harder to repair because they are not made as well as all-leather shoes. Incidentally, unrationed shoe wearers should keep a sharper eye on them than those for which they parted with a precious airplane stamp. Unrationed shoes wear out quicker. In the words of one repairman dealing with a procession of hopelessly worn out shoes, "Unrationed shoes aren't worth carrying home."

With people more shoe-conscious than ever before, attics and closets were stripped of their discarded pairs. Those long-worn out pumps and oxfords being rejuvenated for another year's wear are another reason for the swelling volume of work in repair shops.

The man behind the counter is trying his best to keep the shoes brought to them in good shape. With his full schedule he has only one request of the people whom he serves—patience. He'll get those heels on for you as soon as he can.

SOLDIERS WANT PEACE PROBLEMS MET, CONGRESS TOLD BY GEN. EISENHOWER

Hundreds of thousands of widely shouting men, women and children, veterans of this war and the last, wounded veterans, the old and the young, raised their voices in a mighty tumult as the general of the army rode through their midst.

It was one of the greatest ovations the nation's capital ever rendered.

It started when the European commander left his giant plane at the National Airport and continued through lines often 10 deep to the Pentagon Building, into the city past the Lincoln Memorial, down broad Constitution Avenue to historic Pennsylvania and thence to the seat of the lawmakers on Capitol Hill.

Members of Congress and packed galleries, applauded, whistled and cheered for two full minutes as the tall, sun-browned Kansan walked down the aisle. He nodded and grinned while the stirring welcome rolled in waves through the packed House chamber. He chatted with House Speaker Sam Rayburn and Sen. McKellar (D., Tenn.), president pro tem of the Senate.

The General was presented by Speaker Rayburn, and another ovation followed. He started

MEMORIAL TRIBUTE GIVEN BY PAXSON

Annual Father's Day Held for W. W. Rakestraw

Hon. W. S. Paxson, Fayette County Representative to the State Legislature, delivered the annual memorial tribute to W. O. Rakestraw, late manager of the L. B. Harrison Club, in Cincinnati, in which he praised the man who had befriended a large number of young men including himself.

It was a distinct honor that was accorded Rep. Paxson, by the Harrison Club members, in having him deliver the memorial tribute, which he gave at the grave of the noted benefactor, in Spring Grove Cemetery, Cincinnati.

Mrs. Paxson accompanied her husband to Cincinnati for the address.

speaking at 12:34 P. M. (EWT).

Every seat in the big house chamber was filled.

President Truman's own sleek C-54, one of four big transports, bringing the General and his party home from the wars, landed on Washington's National Airport at 11:11 A.M. Eastern War Time. Thousands of necks craned in a jammed Washington as the planes, escorted by fighters, roared over the capital at 11:08 A.M., enroute to the airport.

Cries of "Ike, Ike, Ike"—a word now known in all languages, meaning a fighting general—rang from hundreds of throats as the modest, 54-year-old son of a Kansas farm family stepped from the huge flying ship. He flashed his famous grin in response.

General George C. Marshall, chief of staff, and Eisenhower's petite and vivacious wife rushed to meet him as the door of his plane opened. A flight of more than 30 bombers and fighters—symbolic of the might that vanquished German and Italian arms—escorted the Allied supreme commander's plane from the Atlantic coast to the airfield in Virginia just across the Potomac from Washington.

Mrs. Eisenhower ran to the General as he came down the steps from the plane and embraced and kissed him.

Scores of photographers, who missed the first shot as the General ran down the steps, yelled "how about another kiss, General."

"No posing, boys," the general said.

Eisenhower snapped to a salute as an 86-piece army band struck up with martial music.

Eisenhower wore a light summer uniform. On his breast were numerous ribbons telling the graphic story of the campaigns he led through North Africa, Sicily, Italy, France and Germany to the very gates of Berlin.

After the greetings for Eisenhower and his men, the general began an eight mile "victory" drive over Memorial Bridge along bunting and flag-bedecked streets lined with hundreds of thousands of parents, wives, brothers, sisters and friends of the men he led in battle.

With the general were 53 fellow soldiers—from a private first class to generals—who fought with him.

The parade destination was Capitol Hill where Congress in joint session waited to honor him.

Among the officers and men with Eisenhower was his son, First Lt. John Sheldon Eisenhower. Mrs. Eisenhower had not seen her husband or son for many months.

As the general embraced his wife he said "It's been a long time, darling."

IN 1870, blacksmith shops and livery stables flourished around the village square. It was the era of the open hearth and the "surrey with the fringe on top." Transportation was slow and uncertain. Man's work—and woman's too—called for all the strength that could be summoned into hands and backs . . . and went on from dawn to dark.

But oil had been discovered. And in 1870, with the founding of Standard Oil, its rapid development began. Men with vision saw in this new wonder of the world the long-sought power that would lift the work burden from their backs . . . give them longer, freer, more enjoyable lives.

"Some day, Son, men will live better . . ."

TODAY—only 75 years later—this dream has been realized beyond all expectations. Through the magic of petroleum we have mechanized mass production to bring countless conveniences and comforts into every American home . . . mechanized farming . . . better heat, light and power . . . new and far faster means of transportation. And far greater things are still to come. Already in the laboratories of Standard Oil, some of them rest in test tube and on testing block. These are the things we look forward to as today we pause for a moment to look back upon 75 years of progress through petroleum.

THE WAR TODAY

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
(Substituting for MacKenzie)

Substituting for MacKenzie Soviet Russia, marching up the hill and then down again, continues as the prize enigma at San Francisco and in Europe. Trying to locate her position is like trying to put the little drops of mercury in the proper spots of the old-time puzzle boxes.

No country is so outspoken about the affairs of others. Hardly a country but has received her advice about affairs which once were termed domestic, although it is true that now there is hardly anything without international implications.

Yet Russia declines to accept a charter providing for discussion of "any matter within the sphere of international relations" and wishes the assembly to consider only matters "relating to the maintenance of international peace and security."

The former phrase admittedly is broader, but since everything involved in the latter is a potential factor in the latter, it is not clear why anyone in a sincere and determined search for peace should object.

Those who see every Russian move as something sinister probably will jump to the conclusion that she is seeking to prevent assembly discussion of the cases of Yugoslavia, Romania, Poland, Czechoslovakia and others which certainly involve the international sphere but which, since none of these countries are in any position to declare war, do not actually, at the moment, involve peace.

But others say Russia does desire peace sincerely. They will merely put this new contention down as another inexplicable move on Moscow's part, to which they expect to find the answer later.

This also applies to the latest moves, regarding Poland, where Russia chooses the very time of consultations regarding the Polish government to bring to trial 16 Poles whose mere arrest caused a breakdown in negotiations only a few weeks ago.

A close observer of the San Francisco conference recently reported that the leading delegates liked the Russians, were not mad at them but just had a terrible feeling of frustration when it came to understanding their methods or what they really wanted.

Language has a very real part in the difficulty. However, she shows signs of increasing attention to criticism. If this means she is becoming aware of the necessity of understanding the outside world, as it is becoming aware of the necessity of understanding her, progress is being made.

In the meantime America may maintain a better balance on the subject by considering that the United States of today might well be confused if it were standing off watching the United States of the Mexican War or Nicaraguan occupation days or, more pertinently, of 1919.

SOCIAL SECURITY SUBJECT AT NEXT ROTARY MEETING

Social security as it is applied in Fayette County will be the subject discussed at the Rotary Club meeting Tuesday noon at the Country Club.

Wayne W. Putnam, manager of the Bureau of Old-Age Insurance, or another representative of the office, is to be the speaker.

WIDOW TO GET AWARD WON BY HOWARD RHOADS

Posthumous Decoration Is For Heroic Conduct Against The Germans

Mrs. Betty Pollard Rhoads, 511 East Paint Street, is in receipt of a letter from Major Gen. J. A. Ulio, informing her that the Bronze Star Medal has been posthumously awarded her husband, Pfc. Howard E. Rhoads, and will be delivered accordingly.

Pfc. Rhoads was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Rhoads, Chillicothe, formerly of this city.

The letter, carrying the citation, follows:

"I have the honor to inform you that, by direction of the President, the Bronze Star Medal has been posthumously awarded to your husband, Private First Class Howard E. Rhoads, Infantry."

The citation is as follows:

"BRONZE STAR MEDAL

"For heroic achievement in connection with military operations against the enemy on Dec. 8, 1944 in the vicinity of xxx. German machine and 20 millimeter guns, emplaced in a xxx pillbox, were trained on Company G's positions and were holding up its advance."

"In order to silence the guns, Private First Class Rhoads patiently and with great effort, prepared a high observation point in a roof of a barn and began harassing the enemy bunker with bazooka fire. The enemy, taken completely by surprise, was forced to button up the pillbox and Company G was enabled to continue its forward progress. Private First Class Rhoads was killed in action on Dec. 12, 1944 in xxx. The superb courage and initiative displayed by Private First Class Rhoads reflects lasting credit on him and the military service."

"The decoration will be forwarded to the Commanding General, Fifth Service Command, Fort Hayes, Columbus, O. who will select an officer to make the presentation. The officer selected will communicate with you concerning your wishes in the matter."

"May I again express my deepest sympathy to you in your bereavement. Sincerely yours, J. A. Ulio, Major General, The Adjutant General."

$500,000 MARK HIT IN WAR BOND DRIVE

Over $200,000 To Go in Two Weeks, However

Fayette County is over the $500,000 mark in the Seventh War Loan drive.

Although the official federal reserve report is $489,843, sales Saturday totalling $20,000 which were not included in the official report pushed the figures over the mark.

With only two weeks left of the drive, all workers were asked again to make sure every single person in their assigned territory was given the opportunity to buy a bond. All wage earners in each family are potential buyers, it was emphasized as the drive neared its end with a $244,157 figure yet to go.

BIBLE QUESTIONS ANSWERED BY THE VOICE OF PROPHECY INTERNATIONAL BIBLE BROADCASTER

Question—How can I tell a true prophet?

Answer—By the Bible test: "To the law and to the testimony: If they speak not according to this word, it is because there is no light in them." Isaiah 8:20.

Q.—How many angels are there?

A.—In Revelation 5:11 we read of "ten thousand times ten thousand," or 100,000,000. But this is only part of the heavenly host, for there is added, "and thousands of thousands." In Hebrews 12:22 the number is said to be "innumerable."

Q.—Are we to believe in the divinity of Christ?

A.—Yes, if we believe the Bible. Read Hebrews 1:8, 9: "But unto the Son He saith, Thy throne, O God, is for ever and ever: . . . God, even Thy God, hath anointed Thee with the oil of gladness above Thy fellows."

Q.—Will babies be resurrected?

A.—Jeremiah 31:16, 17: "Thus saith the Lord; Refrain thy voice from weeping, and thine eyes from tears: for thy work shall be rewarded, saith the Lord; and they shall come again from the land of the enemy. And there is hope in thine end, saith the Lord, that thy children shall come again to their own border."

Q.—Second Samuel 24:24 states that David paid fifty shekels of silver for a threshingfloor and 1 Chronicles 21:25 says that he paid 600 shekels of gold. Isn't this a contradiction?

A.—No—read the entire passages. In the first, he bought the threshingfloor and oxen for sacrifice; in the second, he purchased the whole place, which was Mount Moriah, on which to build the temple. [See 1 Chronicles 22:1.]

Q.—When antichrist comes, will the preaching of the gospel be forbidden?

A.—Many antichrists have already appeared. 1 John 2:18: "Little children, it is the last time: and as ye have heard that antichrist shall come, even now are there many antichrists; whereby we know that it is the last time."

These antichrists have not always forbidden the preaching of the gospel, but sometimes they have corrupted it. "Who is a liar but he that denieth that Jesus is the Christ? He is antichrist, that denieth the Father and the Son." Verse 22. Read also 2 Thessalonians 2:3; 2 Peter 2:1.

known he is considering re-opening other issues by starting a new fight against the big-five veto in the World Security Council.

Secretary of State Stettinius put himself, Evatt and Soviet Ambassador Andrei Gromyko on a special committee yesterday to work out a compromise on the Russian demand. Today he informed the Conference Executive committee it had failed to do so. Gromyko, under instructions from Moscow, was unable to accept any compromise and could only report back to Moscow what was offered.

But the weekend brought a whirlwind cleanup of other controversies that had been argued out over many days past.

A conference committee last night voted to write into the charter authority for the proposed league either to expel or suspend members which violated its principles.

This committee also approved a Belgian plan that future amendments to the charter should be come effective after being ratified by two-thirds of the United Nations, including, including all the big five. This means any one of the big five could veto an amendment.

Acceptance of a United States compromise cleared away another issue over amendments. This provides that if no new conference to revise the charter has been held by the end of its first 10 years, the assembly must consider calling one, and could decide to do so by majority vote.

A committee voted against writing into the charter a clause allowing any nation to withdraw its membership.

FARMER FRIENDS!

NOW IS A 'BULLY' GOOD TIME TO BUY BONDS

Ask Your Banker, or Your Neighbor

There Are—

7 COMMON SENSE REASONS

... why you as an American farmer should put every dollar you possibly can into War Bonds in the mighty 7th War Loan ...

1 Farmers know that the demand for food is greater this year than ever before. And farmers are doing a magnificent job of producing it. The same urgent need applies to all war goods. For today the cost of the war is greater than ever.

Tons and tons of supplies must still flow to our millions of men in Europe. As you read this, still more tons must be shipped over the huge distances of the Pacific to our troops poised there already to begin the harvest. If we are not to let slip the opportunity to hit the Japs, hard—now we are at last in position to strike—we must supply these men with more of everything—new, harder hitting weapons . . . more powerful tanks . . . swift new giant planes—and more of them than ever before!

2 We must make sure that the tragic thousands of our wounded receive the best, most thorough care. That means money without stint—for bandages, for medicines, for thousands and thousands of completely equipped first-aid stations, dozens of hospital ships, hundreds of hospitals.

3 Last year up to this time there had been two war loans. This year, to raise about the same amount of money, the 7th War Loan must do two jobs in one. And so your country is asking you to back up those American boys slugging it out in the front lines—by digging down deep and buying twice as many War Bonds as you did last time.

4 And when you put your money—every cent you can into those bigger bonds in the big 7th War Loan, you'll be doing more than loaning cash for a vital, immediate war need—you'll be helping to fight the inflation that could wreck our nation's whole future. For loose money, in wartime when goods are scarce, tends to "bid up" the prices of things, the same as at an auction. Your War Bond will be safe and money, too, increasing in value until the time when you get back $4 for every $3 you invested.

5 The War Bonds you buy will mature in ten years to send your boy or girl through college . . . or to provide for your own security, for travel, or retirement.

6 Every $75 you put into a War Bond today will return you $100 at maturity; every $375 will yield you $500. And if you need to get your money back for an emergency—you can do so any time you wish 60 days after the bonds are issued. War Bonds are really the same as a cash reserve for emergencies, except that they increase steadily in value, and because each one is registered, you won't lose your money through fire, theft, or loss of the bonds.

7 In the years after the war, when better-than-ever farm equipment will be available, your War Bonds will be a backlog for you to renew your machinery . . . to build that new barn . . . to improve your land.

But meantime—your idle dollars can be fighting dollars . . . put every one of them into the fight in the big Seventh War Loan!

Trade your folding money for fighting money!

Put every idle dollar on the line!

Barbara Bush Is Saturday Bride of John E. Burdfall

A quiet, yet beautiful marriage ceremony performed in Grace Methodist Church, Saturday morning, June sixteenth, as the hands of the clock approached eleven, united in marriage Miss Barbara Bush, daughter of Mrs. Imogene Tushman Bush, 426 East Temple Street, city, to John E. Burdfall, of Middletown, the son of Dr and Mrs. Richard Burdfall, of Seven-Mile.

Witnessing the single ring ceremony which was performed by the Methodist pastor, Rev. George B. Parkin, were members of the immediate families.

For her marriage, the bride chose a pastel blue tailored two-piece jersey suit with which she combined white accessories. A corsage of white flowers completed her wedding ensemble.

Mrs. Bush wore a printed crepe morning frock, with rose and blue as the predominating colors. Her white accessories set off the dora of pink flowers she wore pinned to the shoulder of her frock.

Immediately following the ceremony, the newly-weds were complimented by Mrs. Bush at an informal luncheon for members of the family. Covers for the luncheon serving, which was made in three courses, were laid at the dining room table which was a picture of delicate beauty with its watergarden centerpiece of pink and red roses in harmonious arrangement. The centerpiece was flanked by tall pink tapers in crystal holders.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Burdfall left on a week's wedding trip before going to their new residence, 321 Yankee Road, in Middletown, where their home is in readiness.

Mrs. Burdfall has resigned her teaching position on the faculty of the junior high school at Middletown, where she has been employed for several years. She is a graduate of Miami University, Oxford. Her husband, who graduated from the University of Cincinnati, is a chemist at the Crystal Tissue Paper Company, in Middletown.

Out-of-town guests for the luncheon were Dr. and Mrs. Burdfall, of Seven-Mile; Mr. and Mrs. Byron Young and daughters, Janet and Marjorie, of Hamilton; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Chace, and daughters, Millicent and Elizabeth, of Oxford.

Three Honored At Bridge Party At Dunton Home

Mrs. D. M. Wilson, of Pittsburgh, Pa., Mrs. Condon Campbell, of Childress, Texas, and Mrs. William Froelich, of Dayton, were the trio of honored guests when Mrs. Robert L. Dunton entertained at her home on Friday evening for their pleasure during visits at homes in this city during the past week and week end.

Three tables of guests were assembled by the hospitable hostess who provided innumerable pleasures, much to the delight of her guests, during the course of the enjoyable evening. Mrs. Robert Burnett was awarded the bridge high score award and the three honor guests were also presented with favors by their hostess.

A tempting and appetizing prepared salad course was served at the small tables at the conclusion of the affair, each table being centered with gorgeous massed arrangements of wax roses in all shades. An informal period of visiting among the guests provided ample entertainment during the social period which brought to a close one of the most enjoyable parties of the current season of entertaining.

ALREADY HAILED as one of the musical must-sees of the season, 20th Century-Fox's latest funfest, "Iceland," makes its debut locally Wednesday at the State Theatre. Boasting the same starring team that helped make "Sun Valley Serenade" a box-office sensation, the film has added to this duo of Sonja Henie and John Payne, the laugh-provoking antics of Jack Oakie and the celebrated music of Sammy Kaye and his Orchestra. Nor must be forgot the addition of a new crop of hit tunes by songwriters Mack Gordon and Harry Warren, including: "You Can't Say No To A Soldier," "Lovers' Knot," "Let's Bring New Glory To Old Glory," "There'll Never Be Another You," and "I Like A Military Tune. Also on the same program—Advance reports on Columbia Pictures' second film in its "Whistler" series taken from the radio program of the same name, "The Mark of the Whistler," which will star Richard Dix at the State Theatre beginning Wednesday, say that it is a worthy successor to the thrills and tense melodrama provided by the first.

Father's Day Observed Sunday At Church Here

An appreciative group of fathers and special guests enjoyed the first Father's Day Program to be presented by the Junior and Senior Christian Endeavor Societies of the North North Street Church of Christ on Sunday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. Due to the success of the affair the Endeavors have decided that this shall be an annual program to be held in honor of the fathers on their particular day.

The church parlor, the scene of the service, had been prettily decorated in accordance with a patriotic scheme. Colorful bouquets at vantage points and red, white and blue streamers forming Vs were used in the arrangements. Each person upon arrival was presented with a program. Miss Margaret Gibson opened the program with a piano prelude, and also accompanied the special numbers. This was followed by the singing of "America" and a prayer. A trumpet solo by David Mitchell, "Father's Day," Miss Alice Davis, scripture read by Misses Barbara Edwards and Jean Thomas and Ronald Merritt, a vocal duet by Misses Marjorie Swartz and Mary Jane Hyer; Bible story by Miss Dorothy Wasson; "Growth" by Miss Mary Jenkins; "Father William" by Miss Jane Cummings; a piano solo by Miss Jean Miller and hymns introduced by the Endeavor members before going to the dining room for refreshments. Miss Christine Switzer was program leader and announced that gold crosses would be given to the fathers and special guests in attendance.

The dining room had been lighted by candlelight and the serving table was most attractive in its appearance. A centerpiece of a striking arrangement of American flags was used with tall red, white and blue candles at either end of the table. The social hour was a most pleasurable one with members and their guests enjoying the opportunity to become better acquainted. The invitation was extended to all the guests to attend C.E. services. Mrs. Harriett Jenkins and Miss Mary Jenkins were in charge of the food committee for the occasion, Miss Christine Switzer and Miss Alice Davis, program committee and Miss Jane Cummings and Miss Dorothy Wasson, decoration committee.

OUTLOOK GOOD FOR JOBS HERE WHEN WAR ENDS

Selective Service Reveals Number of Young Men Taken Into Service

More than 1,000 young men logically may be expected to come back to Fayette County to take up civilian life again after Japan is whipped.

Some of them will return to the jobs they left. Others, matured by the hazards of war and their outlook changed, may want to seek new fields of endeavor. Many will go back to the farms they left to go into the service. But there also will be many, especially the younger boys who had not yet got settled when the call to arms came, will have no place definite to turn.

This, in substance, is the consensus of the majority of forward thinking groups here. And, this has been the basis of serious thought among them for months.

There are potential complications to the postwar situation in the number of war workers who have been going daily to other cities and the scores who have been working at Wright and Patterson Fields but who are expected to return to a normal life at home when they feel their patriotic obligations have been discharged or industrial and military pressure is eased.

Nearly two years ago, the Fayette County Committee for Economic Development was formed under the chairmanship of Ray Brandenburg. Its primary purpose was to lay the ground work, through a two-ply survey, for postwar employment and business. With the help of volunteer committees, a check on postwar buying and employment prospects was made with questionnaires, one to consumers in all walks of life to find out what they needed most and how much they expected to pay for it and the other to employers, large and small, to find out how many new jobs would be available when business returned to normal.

While the surveys were inconclusive, the CED expressed the belief that they would serve as a guide for postwar planning. They indicated that there would be considerable spending, mostly for replacement of war-banned goods and that employers who have been struggling along short-handed will be taking on many new workers.

One of the big question marks which had faced the postwar planners from the start was the vagueness concerning the number that had gone into the service and the number that might come back. Now that question has been answered, in part at least, by the Ohio Selective Service board's release of draft figures broken down by counties.

From Fayette County, 1,514 men have gone into the armed forces either through the draft or enlistment, the Selective Service list revealed. Of these, 243 have been discharged already. More will be going away and more will be coming back, but this list provides the basis for calculations. Selective Service headquarters said the list was made public in order to assist communities in planning for jobs after the war.

The newly organized Chamber of Commerce is expected to take up now where the CED left off and, in all probability, make use of the data on business possibilities and job prospects it compiled.

As the C of C committees are lined up by Brandenburg, who stepped from the CED head to the presidency of the C of C, and the program of objectives is developed, one of the chief concerns of the board is jobs for everyone in the community. Approach to the problem is along two lines—support of industries now here and holding open the door to new ones. It is known, although not formally announced, that inquiries have come in from several concerns interested in locating here. And, those inquiries are being checked.

Every city and county in the state is facing problems similar to those here and most of them are taking similar measures to solve them. Competition for postwar business will be keen, it is generally conceded. That is one of the reasons the C of C was revived and one of the reasons why the majority of its prospective members and its directors decided on

WHEAT DAMAGED BY EXCESSIVE RAINFALL HERE

Enormous Rains Again Sweep County Over the Week End

Farmers from various parts of the county Monday expressed fears that the additional heavy rainfall, which reached almost cloudburst proportions in some sections of the county over the week-end, caused damage to the wheat, and stated that rains while the wheat was in bloom were also very damaging to the grain.

In this city rainfall Sunday and up to 8 A. M. Monday reached 1.97 inches, while in other parts of the county rain of more than three inches is said to have fallen during the same time, coming on top of heavy rains over Saturday. Apparently the heaviest rain falling over much of the county during Sunday was about 7 P. M. when more than an inch of water fell during a period of 15 or 20 minutes.

While the rain was at its height, here sewers were flooded, and in many places water stood over the streets up to a foot or more in depth, due to inadequate drainage.

In a few instances water was still standing in the streets late in the night.

Great areas of farm lands were completely inundated, and in a great many instances corn was completely covered by water, and wheat in low ground was half covered with muddy floodwaters.

Streams were out of bank in part of the county, and were still bankfull Monday over most of their courses.

In much of the county little or no corn cultivation will be possible this week.

By the Associated Press
The nation's eastern and western coasts shared a week-end heat wave as southern and mid-western states enjoyed milder temperatures but were harassed by thunderstorms and a threat of flood damage.

The Midwest generally had the sunniest outlook; three days of clear, fair weather with only slight rain in eastern Indiana today.

Ohio River valley temperatures, as in Nebraska, Iowa, Missouri and Kansas, emerged through the upper 70's, with warmer weather expected to move in from the plains west of the Mississippi today.

Recent heavy rains brought an imminent threat that thousands of acres of rich farm lands would be flooded in eastern Kansas and western Missouri, according to the U. S. weather bureau.

What's the Good Word about Rural Telephone Service?

Telephone service for farmers is a live subject with telephone people. They have been doing a lot of research and planning for some time, so when war needs end they can go ahead with these two objectives:

- ONE—Improve service over existing lines.
- TWO—Extend service to families not reached by existing lines.

Many of the things we plan to do when manpower and materials are available again are really the continuation of a modernization and expansion program begun before the war and delayed because the demands of the armed forces came first.

When the program is resumed new construction methods, new materials and improvements in the art of transmission will be available as well as a tariff which makes it possible for about 87 per cent of farmers in Ohio Bell territory not having service to be given telephones without construction charges.
